reservation policy

A sad tale...

Unfortunately, for the first time in 6 years, the number of 'no-shows' where people book tables, but do not turn up has become unsustainable.

It is with regret that we must now insist on a £10 per person deposit when making reservations for evening dining.

We will take credit card details when your reservation is made and pre-authorise the deposit. No monies will be taken at this time. If the reservation is cancelled with up to 24 hours notice a cancellation reference number will be given & the pre-authorisation will be released.

In the event of a 'no show' then £10 per person deposit will be charged to the credit card 15 minutes after the table reservation time has expired.

We're a small, busy venue and would respectfully request that during holiday times you arrive punctually for your reservation. Unless we hear from you, we will have to release your table 10 minutes after your reservation time.

Generally, we allow an hour and a half table time for parties of two, two hours for larger parties. Should you require longer, please let us know when making your reservation and we will endeavour to accommodate where possible.
